

Mixed logit models estimate constituent mixing distribution parameters

HAVAN Framework directly relates model inputs to distributional parameters of aggregate observables-related preferences